NEW PREMISES FOR SOS AS EXPANSION TAKES OVER!!

(West Sussex, England) Even though SOS Communications have only been in their new premises a year, they are already searching for new or additional facilities. As the Company approaches their tenth birthday in July, there is even greater cause for celebration as increasing sales have meant that further expansion is inevitable.

Managing Director, Colin Hepher comments 'We would never have expected that after only a year at our current premises, we would be having to expand further still. I look forward to watching the company grow from strength to strength for at least another ten years!'

###

SOS Communications is a distinguished distributor and broker of telecoms systems – enabling true dealer support. We can provide the latest developments within the telecoms industry, from most recognised manufacturers.
